

Mid-Term Group Project

The mid-term project is worth 30% of your final grade. You will work together within small groups on this project. There are two parts to this project, you will be graded on both parts. If everyone contributes equally, then each member will share the same grade. Anyone who does not contribute equally to the project will receive a lower grade based on their level of participation.

Your first task will be for your group to list 5 cultural stereotypes that people in China often have of the West or people living in English speaking countries.

From that list, your group will choose one stereotype and I'll choose a second stereotype from your list. You will then research and report on both of those stereotypes, following the guidelines below.

Failure to follow the project guidelines will result in a lower grade. Please read carefully!
